In this one-day activity, students will be asked to develop, in teams, concrete proposals to solve a problem targeted by a partner organization.

The teams will present their plan to a jury of researchers and practitioners.

A networking cocktail and an award ceremony will follow.

This year's workshop will be based on a challenge proposed by Gray Oncology Solutions (GrayOS)

GrayOS platform fully automates patient scheduling for the oncology workflow. It provides efficient and personalized patient's treatment schedule.

Practitioners from GrayOS will share with the audience the main challenges of its solution design and implementation.
